AMERICAN MADE

A TOUR OF THE FACTORY

Wilson® has been handcrafting leather footballs in the United States from the very beginning. In 1955 we settled production down in Ada, Ohio where we continue today to produce official NFL®, college, and high school leather game balls from the longest running dedicated football factory in the world.

For 64 years now our dedicated, skilled craftsmen and women have built the game balls that have been in every single Super Bowl, have been clutched by NFL® legends in every NFL® game since 1941, and have been carried into end zones by Heisman Trophy winners and State Champions across the country. And, from our unassuming factory floor in this unassuming small, American town, we produce nearly 3,000 balls a day—including the No. 1 selling football in the world—the GST®.

Every Wilson® football from the Ada factory has been touched by a dozen different hands with a dozen different stories. So from our hands to yours, it's time finally to share your own.

ICONIC SINCE 1941

For over 78 years, Wilson® and the NFL® have held the longest standing official ball partnership in US sports. The Duke® official game ball rests at the center of this partnership, clutched by the hands of thousands of gridiron legends. Now it's in your hands, so carry the tradition with pride.

BUILT FOR CHAMPIONS

For more than 90 years, Wilson® footballs have been in the hands of championship-hungry college football players on the hunt to make history. From personal bests to record-setting seasons to conference title battles, no other football has traveled to as many stadiums and fields and been a part of as many legendary performances by the game's greatest athletes. As college football embarks on a new era, Wilson® is proud to make history once again as the Official Football of the College Football Playoff®.
